MANUFACTURING

- Cedar logs are selected from responsible forest management based on the best quality and size available.
- Use of stellite-tipped blades for a smoother surface and minimize raised grain.
- Laser-guided precision edging for superior quality.
- Use of an artificial vision system to measure and recut each shingle with an accuracy of 1/64" (0.4 mm) to obtain perfectly parallel sides and perpendicular butt.
- Sanded-base for a uniform and greater look.
- Embossed nailing line at 6-1/8" (156 mm) from the butt on one side for easy fasteners alignment.
- Dehumidification drying process between 10% and 14% moisture content to optimize wood stability and maximize coating adhesion (KD shingles).
